

ART

Explore world art and create your own masterpieces!

The Usborne Art Treasury is a wonderful way to expose students to famous artists while giving them the chance to create their own work in the same style. It's not a full art curriculum, but it makes a rich supplement for families who want to bring art history to life at home. With clear, step-by-step directions and accessible materials, it works especially well for parents who want structured, doable projects that still spark creativity.

Curriculum Overview

- 22 art projects inspired by well-known and global artists
- Step-by-step pictorial and written instructions
- Works best as a supplement to other art instruction
- Materials are common household or easy-to-find art supplies
- Projects can be completed in any order
- Encourages students to explore different media and techniques

Why Families Like It

Families often find that The Usborne Art Treasury gives just enough structure to make art projects doable without a lot of prep. The variety of artists and media keeps things interesting, while the step-by-step directions help kids feel successful — even if art isn't usually their strength.
